

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts; single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

MONDAY, MAY 4, 1903.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,624

According to the statement of the police officers and others who took the trouble to observe, there was less drunkenness on the streets Saturday night than for many months previous. The saloons opened up four days ago.

The death of Representative James Conland of Brattleboro will be heard of with regret by all who have had the pleasure of knowing him. During the last session of the Vermont legislature Dr. Conland was one of the most popular members of the lower branch as well as one of the most indefatigable workers. His invariable affability made him many friends there and his ability and evident pleasure in doing the work assigned made him one of the leaders of the House. None of his acquaintances in public life will hear of his death without a feeling of sorrow.

When one considers the bitter feeling that formerly prevailed between France and Great Britain the present visit of King Edward VII to France is a matter of astonishment. What a change of feeling has taken place, when the people of a country will greet the ruler of a former enemy with salutes of applause and the women will cry out, "Bravo, Edward!" Such are the conditions which attended the visit of England's king to the capital of France. Shades of Napoleon and Wellington! Here is England's king inspecting a body of 14,000 picked French troops, witnessing and commenting on their maneuvers, and we are told that "it was a martial panorama of imposing proportions, resembling as near as possible the conditions of warfare, the troops being uniformed and accoutred for actual field service." As King Edward, the Englishman, drove along the line of French troops, fanfares of trumpets were sounded, standards were dipped and bands played "God Save the King." After the review was through with and the French troops had done their best to please the British sovereign, King Edward arose and extended congratulations to President Loubet on the "splendid discipline and appearance of the troops." Then the applause for the King started again and continued the rest of the day, while that personage joined with the people in witnessing the races at Long Champs. Verily the event was enough to cause the former royalty of the two countries, who fought, bled and died in a mortal hatred of each other, to turn over in their graves. The event shows to us an unmistakable leaning of Great Britain to France, and, as some maintain, a drifting away from Germany.

London's Lady Mayors.
The lady mayors of London can appoint maids of honor and a train bearer, and she has her own private state carriage and four. At the lord mayor's procession, if she comes direct from her country residence, a guard of honor is sent to meet her and to escort her to jolla in the pageant.

Potatoes in Germany.
Germans have long been in the foremost rank as potato eaters. Among a large proportion of the laboring classes potatoes and dark bread are the principal staples of daily subsistence.

ABOUT THE STATE.

The Van Ness House at Burlington has not taken out its third class liquor license yet and probably will not do so for a week or more.

The state normal school commission met at Burlington Friday night to plan for examinations. There is to be a new $5,000 training school at Randolph.

Among the freshmen of Amherst College, who have been appointed to the Walker honor division in mathematics for excellence in mathematics during the fall and winter terms, is A. W. Scott of Brattleboro.

In Chittenden county court Friday 30 cases were not pressed on motion of the state's attorney. Most of the cases originated under the old prohibitory law. Miss Margaret S. Chestnut was appointed official stenographer by Judge Starr.

Mrs. A. M. Jenks, a wealthy woman of Woburn, Mass., who passed last summer at White River Junction, has presented to the village a marble fountain to be placed in the public square. The fountain will soon be placed in position.

While John Brennan, station agent of the Delaware & Hudson railroad at Hydeville, was at dinner Friday, an unknown man pried up the depot window, entered the building, and rifled the money drawer, taking $28. A man was afterward arrested at Castleton on suspicion of being the thief, but there was no positive evidence and he was allowed to go.

Letter To Eastman Bros.

Barre, Vt.

Dear Sir: You sell good goods and give full measure. It's a pleasant way of doing and it pays besides.

We do it for the same reason, and it has made us the foremost paint-house in the United States.

Short weight and adulteration are the vices of business. They are a natural response to the demand for cheapness. The world is full of them—the grocery world and the paint world, and every kind of world.

You know and we know that it doesn't pay. People change their grocer or paint man as soon as they find it out.

We don't know about groceries—you tell your people about them—the full-measure and unadulterated paint is Devco Lead and Zinc.

Fewer gallons—take less Devco Lead and Zinc than of mixed paints to paint a house. Wears longer—twice as long as lead and oil mixed by hand.

Yours truly,

F. W. Devco & Co.,

New York.

P. S.—Reynolds & Son sell our paint.

A Heat Record.

At Kouka, in central Africa, the average annual temperature is 83.5 degrees F. This is the world's record for heat.

Indian Moon Beliefs.

By the Huron Indians the moon is called the creator of the earth and the grandmother of the sun. In the myths of the Ottawas it is an old woman with a pleasant white face, the sister of the day star.

You will not make children's wash dresses when you have priced them at A. P. Abbott & Co's.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

The Real Ideal.
Towne—He is her ideal, I suppose.
Brown—He must be. She told me she thought he was the "real thing."
Philadelphia Press.

Original.
Behold the baby, precious pet!
He hasn't learned to talk as yet.
And, nevertheless, strange truth to tell,
He knows a splendid college yell.
—Brooklyn Eagle.

An Illusion.
"Papa, what's an illusion?"
"A woman's foot in a high heeled shoe."
—Indianapolis Sun.

Airy Perch.
A little bird sat on a telegraph wire
And said to his mate, "I declare,
If wireless telegraphy comes into vogue,
We'll all have to sit on the air."
—St. Nicholas.

A Discreet Answer.
"Let me see. Are you the head of a household?"
"Nominally."—Life.

To Farmers.
Ho, farmers, plow your fallow fields
And plant your corn today.
You'll need a scarecrow pretty soon
To keep the birds away.
—Comfort.

Cautious.
She—How do you like my new hat?
He—What did it cost?—Somerville Journal.

The Statesman at Recreation.
You'd never suspect the loads of care
This earnest man has seen
Could you but see him golfing there
Upon the village green.
—Washington Star.

Very Unfortunate.
He stood in the doorway, hat in hand,
And the stuttering young lady
Was inviting him to call again.

"Come around 8-8-8-8"—she began,
trying to say Sunday, but the sentence
was never finished.
The dog thought she meant "lick 'em,"
and he did.—Kansas City Independent.

Was Not Plain.
Tough Youth—Say, I want to buy some handkerchiefs for a young lady.
Clerk—Plain?

Tough Youth—Now, she ain't plain, an' I kin lick the man that says she is!—Philadelphia Record.

Hope.
There are fish in the sea good as ever
were caught;
There are fish to be lost good as ever
were sighted about;
There are fish you can buy good as ever
were bought;
There are fish that have never yet been lied about.
—Lippincott's.

ASSORTED ADS-NO. 4.

"Let the Coal Trust Twins Work You!"

Spring in the Valley.

When the catkin's on the willow
And the tassel on the birch,
The wild bees from the living rocks
Begin their honey search.

Brown wings among the browner grass
And breast all brightening yellow
Pipes up from meadows as we pass
The lark's call, clear and mellow;

Now wake the burnished dragon fly
Beside the glinting river
That shakes with silent laughter where
The iris banners quiver;

Now on the budding poplar boughs
The tuneful blackbirds perch,
For the catkin's on the willow
And the tassel on the birch.

Now stalks the solemn crow behind
The farmer in the furrow;
The downy owl comes out at dusk
And hoots beside his burrow.
Now blows a balmy breath at morn
To call men to the sowing;
Now all the waterways are full
And all the pastures growing;

Now trout anglers drop a line
To catfish and to perch.
For the catkin's on the willow
And the tassel on the birch.
—St. Nicholas Magazine For May.

Now is the time to secure that new silk coat. See them at Fitts. Prices reasonable.

Phenomenal Offering in Ladies' Walking Skirts!

One of the best things we have ever offered our trade in Ladies' Medium-priced Skirts—a seven-gore Skirt, STRICTLY ALL WOOL, in black, blue, grey and tan, fresh from the factory, at $3.75. Other splendid values at $3.98, $4.25, $4.75 and $4.98. Though we offer a splendidly strong line of Walking Skirts at a very low price, please note our assurance that even the cheapest numbers we sell are of good style and make. We do not, and will not, sell the trashy job lot, sweat-shop stuff, which looks well on paper but does not give satisfaction to the purchaser. Our Skirts are Union-made.
